

The Carpenter's Kids Program

Nagulo—St. Augustine's Distribution photo gallery— October 20th 2007

We have never received a welcome like this one! When we pulled up to the church all the children and their guardians were singing. They even wrote one song in Swahili specific to the Carpenter's Kids children. It was a wonderful day. Below: the younger girls wait patiently for their uniforms.

Left: 2 boys peer in the window behind the altar to see what's happening inside.
